

GUIDELINES FOR PRIDE OF WORKMANSHIP AWARD

Primary objectives of Award

To encourage and recognize vocational excellence, with particular regard to quality, productivity, initiative, responsibility, ethics and creativity. Provide employers with the opportunity, through Rotary, of recognizing and acknowledging the efforts and contributions of an employee who consistently achieves exceptional standards in their work.

Pride of Workmanship, as a Rotary sponsored project, has been widely claimed and adopted throughout Australia and is now finding increasing acceptance throughout the world.

The Pride of Workmanship Award, consistent with its emphasis on the commitment to a job well done on the part of an employee, has as its theme "Do it once, Do it well, build a better Australia". The Pride of Workmanship Award was conceived to embrace all aspects of one's vocation, including quality, productivity, initiative, responsibility, ethics and creativity.

The Pride of Workmanship Award is not a competition and there are no 'winners' in the strict sense of the word. It is anticipated that normally there would be only one awardee from each separate organization. Should these restrictions be a cause of concern to an organization, please discuss the matters with our Vocational Service Director.

The Pride of Workmanship Award is to be seen and to be acknowledged as recognition of a person, in any vocation, whose abilities and dedication to his or her vocation are consistently of a high standard.

It is important and indeed essential, that the awardee is also seen as being a worthy recipient in the eyes of his/her peers, family and community. The Award is also formulated with the intention of encouraging favorable employer/employee relationships and a sense of community pride in individual achievement.

It is desirable and preferable that your nominee either works or lives in the Hamilton vicinity.

The Awards are to be presented at a Pride of Workmanship Awards Presentation Evening, to which the executives of the awardee's business and family are invited as paying guests. The awardee will be a guest of our Club.
